Introductory Days for the winter term 2020/21

October 28th to 30th, 2020

Dear soon-to-be master students,

We, the student initiative at the Geography Department, welcome you! For an easy and pleasant start in your Master's program, we would like to introduce you to the campus, our department and your study program's structure in our introduction days from October 28th to 30th. You'll find the schedule for our Introduction Days on the next page. Some activities are designed for Bachelor students are nevertheless very helpful for students new to Humboldt University or the campus. However, the current situation forces us to organize most of the introduction days online. Please enrol in the designated MSc moodle course in order to get information on initial activities and to communicate with your fellow students: <https://moodle.hu-berlin.de/course/view.php?id=73569> using the enrolment key "HU_GCG".

The events marked in red in the schedule take place exclusively online at the specified times. You can find the link on the page of the Institute of Geography <https://www.geographie.hu-berlin.de/de/studium/bewerbung/orientierungstage>. The events will be recorded and made available to you online on various platforms (HU website, Moodle). You have the possibility to watch the recording live and ask questions directly or watch the videos on demand. The events marked in black in the schedule can be attended physically. On Wednesday 28.10.2020 we scheduled a campus rally in small groups with you, so that you can get to know each other better. In order to participate in the physically attended event, it is important that you send an email with your first name, surname and current address to the following email address: beselelu@hu-berlin.de. In case the current situation changes and we are not able to host a physically attended event, you will be informed on the website of the Institute of Geography.

In order to facilitate the start of your university life and the transition to your studies during the first semester, there is the peer mentoring program ("introductory tutorial"). These mentoring sessions are voluntary and do not deal with specific content from your studies, but with everything that might occupy you in your everyday life. The mentoring are led by students from higher semesters. You will receive more information during the Introduction Days:

Any questions so far, feel free to contact our student guidance at studienberatung.geographie@geo.hu-berlin.de.

We are looking forward to meeting you during our introduction days!

Best,
your student representatives in geography
