Introductory days for winter term 2024/25

October 9 to 11, 2024

Dear soon-to-be master students,

We, the student initiative at the Geography Department, welcome you! For an easy and pleasant start in your master's program, we would like to introduce you to the campus, our department and your study program's structure in our introduction days from October 9th to 11th. You'll find the schedule for our introduction days on the next page. Some activities are designed for Bachelor students but are nevertheless very helpful for students new to Humboldt University or the campus.

November 8th to 10th will be our weekend trip for new students. We'll take you out "into the wild" for a weekend, with plenty of time to get to know each other and have fun with all kinds of activities. The entire weekend trip will cost you 45€, including transport, food and accommodation. The trip is designed for Bachelor students but will be a fun experience for new master students, too. Please note that the registration as well as most of the trip activities will be in German language. Number of trip participants is limited, so make sure to register soon on:

For any questions regarding the introduction days or your study program in general, feel free to contact our student guidance at studienberatung.geographie@geo.hu-berlin.de .

We are looking forward to meeting you during our introduction days and our weekend trip!

Kind regards,
your student representatives in geography
