Introductory Days for the winter term 2021/22

October 13th to 15th

Dear soon-to-be master students,

We, the student initiative at the Geography Department, welcome you! For an easy and pleasant start in your master's program, we would like to introduce you to the campus, our department and your study program's structure in our introduction days from October 13th to 15th. You'll find the schedule for our Introduction Days on the next page. Some activities are designed for Bachelor students are nevertheless very helpful for students new to Humboldt University or the campus. However, the current situation forces us to organize most of the introduction days online. Please enrol in the designated MSc moodle course in order to get information on initial activities and to communicate with your fellow students:

Moodle course: MSc Global Change Geography

WWW: <https://moodle.hu-berlin.de/enrol/index.php?id=73569>

Key: HU_GCG

The events marked in red in the schedule take place exclusively online at the specified times. You can find the link on the page of the student representatives in www.fachschaftgeographie.de. The events will be recorded and made available to you online on various platforms (HU website, Moodle). You have the possibility to watch the recording live and ask questions directly or watch the videos on demand. The events marked in black in the schedule can be attended physically. On Wednesday 13.10.2021 we scheduled a campus rally in small groups with you, so that you can get to know each other better. To participate in the physically attended event, it is important that you send an email with your first name, surname and current address to the following email address: beselelu@hu-berlin.de. In case the current situation changes, and we are not able to host a physically attended event, you will be informed on the website of the Institute of Geography.

In addition, we have planned a trip for you in November of this year. We will spend a weekend with you in the "wilderness". Here we want to show you the first geographical contents in "real life". In the meantime, there will be plenty of time to getting to know each other, cooking together, having fun, and campfire evenings. The trip will take place over three days, the participation fee for all days including travel, food and accommodation is 40 euros. All further information about the exact date and the registration will follow shortly and will be announced on the already mentioned pages. Any questions so far, feel free to contact our student guidance at studienberatung.geographie@geo.hu-berlin.de. In addition, you can find all the latest information on the welcome page for first-year students: <https://hu.berlin/willkommeninadlershof>

We are looking forward to meeting you during our introduction days!

Best,

your student representatives in geography
