AT FIRST: ADLERSHOF

GENERAL FACTS

The natural sciences campus of Humboldt University is located in the district of Adlershof, part of the Berlin borough of Treptow-Köpenick. In the early 20th century, Germany's first airport for motor-driven airplanes opened nearby, and aeronautical research flourished at the time. Some of the impressive technological monuments have lasted up to now. Since 1990, the area has changed noticeably and developed into one of Europe's biggest locations of science and technology where a large number of business undertakings, scientific institutes and the natural science departments of Humboldt-University have settled. The buildings, which were built between 1998 and 2003, provide first-class teaching and research facilities to the departments of Chemistry, Geography, Computer Science, Mathematics, Physics and Psychology. A compact campus, excellent social infrastructure and contemporary, well-equipped buildings provide the best conditions for studying. It is easy to find your way around and meet people here. The six mathematical and scientific departments at Adlershof serve over 6,000 students from Germany and abroad.

You must take at least one course at the department you were nominated for. Changes in your “Learning Agreement” can be made in the first 3 weeks. The respective “Coordinators of your Departments” are responsible for signing the “Learning Agreement”. The agreement has to be signed at the beginning of the semester, not at the end.

ONLINE APPLICATION

Please sign into our online application system called “MoveON”. After we get your application and signed nomination form, we will send you a confirmation letter including the date of matriculation.

MATRICULATION

The matriculation/enrolment process is handled online by our Incoming Team. After your enrolment, you will receive your semester ticket, which you can use for the public transportation system Berlin (ABC). Your semester ticket is valid from the first to the last day of your semester. With the enrolment you have the official student status of Humboldt-University Berlin.

ACCOMMODATION

Finding accommodation in Berlin is not easy at all. The growing demand for rooms leads to an increase in rental prices and makes it very difficult for students to find a room. HU is trying to help you as much as possible.

Here are some options:

1) Student Village Adlershof

The “Studentendorf” is situated on the Campus Adlershof and is easily reachable via the Adlershof train station. It offers different types of fully furnished rooms and apartments as well as learning lounges, party rooms, a gym, and a day-care center for children. During the application process via “MoveON” it is possible to apply for a student dorm. For further information click here.

2) “HousingAnywhere”

The Team of “HousingAnywhere” makes the apartment hunting easier. You are able to book a room online with the supervision of the team. Have a look on the webpage, where you can find a detailed description on how it works.

CHOOSE YOUR CLASSES

You can register for courses online via the course catalogue AGNES. As part of the Erasmus Program you should achieve 25-30 ECTS per semester. The number of ECTS is usually indicated as "LP" in the course catalogue.

HOW DO I REGISTER FOR EXAMS?

You can register for exams online - directly in AGNES. If this does not work, please contact your respective examination office.

FIFTH: MOST ASKED QUESTIONS

- WHAT KIND OF CLASSES ARE IN ENGLISH?

Take a look at the course descriptions so find out if a class is held in English or German. Even though there are not a lot of classes in English, they do exist.

- WHAT KIND OF ACTIVITIES OFFERS THE HU?

There are a lot of different options. You can participate in sports, language classes or in different activities planned by the International Department. The “MoPS” also has a few regular events. It is a student organized project space with a café in the building.

- WHAT TYPE OF EXAM DO I HAVE TO COMPLETE TO PASS THE COURSE?

Check in AGNES and click on the respective course. There you will have an overview of the main subjects of the class. Beneath “content” (Inhalt) you can find the type of examination.

- WILL I BE ABLE TO GET INTO EVERY CLASS?

If you have not been admitted to a course via AGNES, you can talk or write to the lecturer (if possible at the first session of the class). Often they will sign you in because you are an international student and can't take the class at another time.

- HOW CAN I FIND A ROOM IN BERLIN?

At the moment, it is very difficult to find an apartment or a room because of the extremely tense situation of the housing market. It is always advisable to start to look early. If you apply for a room in a shared flat, try to write an original application. The owners get a lot of offers. In addition, Adlershof has student dorms and www.housinganywhere.com offers also great opportunities to find a room (see above).

- HOW EXPENSIVE IS BERLIN?

The costs of living in Berlin have risen in the last few years. However, it is not yet as high as in other major cities. You can eat a Döner for 6 € or buy cheap fruits and vegetables at a local market. In addition, it is always possible to apply for a scholarship. The DAAD, for example, offers several programs for international students.

- WHAT DOES THE “FACHSCHAFT” DO? The respective student committees organise all kinds of events for each department. They are also available to help you with questions regarding the university or different networks. Don't hesitate to contact them.

- THE CAFETERIA AND LIBRARY

You can't pay cash in the cafeteria or the related café. Use your “Mensa Card” or “Student ID”. Therefore you need to load money on it - at the machines by the entry of the cafeteria. Bills only! To use the locker at the library, you need a padlock. Make sure that your lock is big enough.
