Workshop series „Writing a PhD in science“
#2

Nils Fromm/ Sandra Golda (HU UB)

Cumulative and electronic dissertations

During the doctoral studies, many practical questions arise, which on the one hand concern the organization of work during the research and writing phase, but on the other hand are related to the decisive final step - the publication.

This workshop on cumulative and electronic dissertations will deal specifically with the conditions and requirements for an electronic dissertation at Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin. Particular attention will be paid to the handling of the cumulative dissertation, which has been used more frequently in recent years.

Workshop language: English

Venue: Humboldt-Kabinett, Department of Computer Science, Rudower Chaussee 25, 12489 Berlin, 1st floor (between Haus 3+4)

The event is aimed at PhD students of the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences at HU Berlin,
max. 30 participants.
